

THE HAUNTED BROOKLET !

SONG and CHORUS.

Words by THEO. D. C. MILLER, M. D.

Music by Joseph SCHWENSECK.

Andante espressione.

mf

1. I sit by the beau - ti - ful
 2. One night when the stars beam'd so
 3. But, when the glad morn - ing was brook - let With waves danc - ing on to the Sea, And bright - ly, Two lov - ers were wend - ing their way - The break - ing, He pass'd o'er the riv - er so cold; The

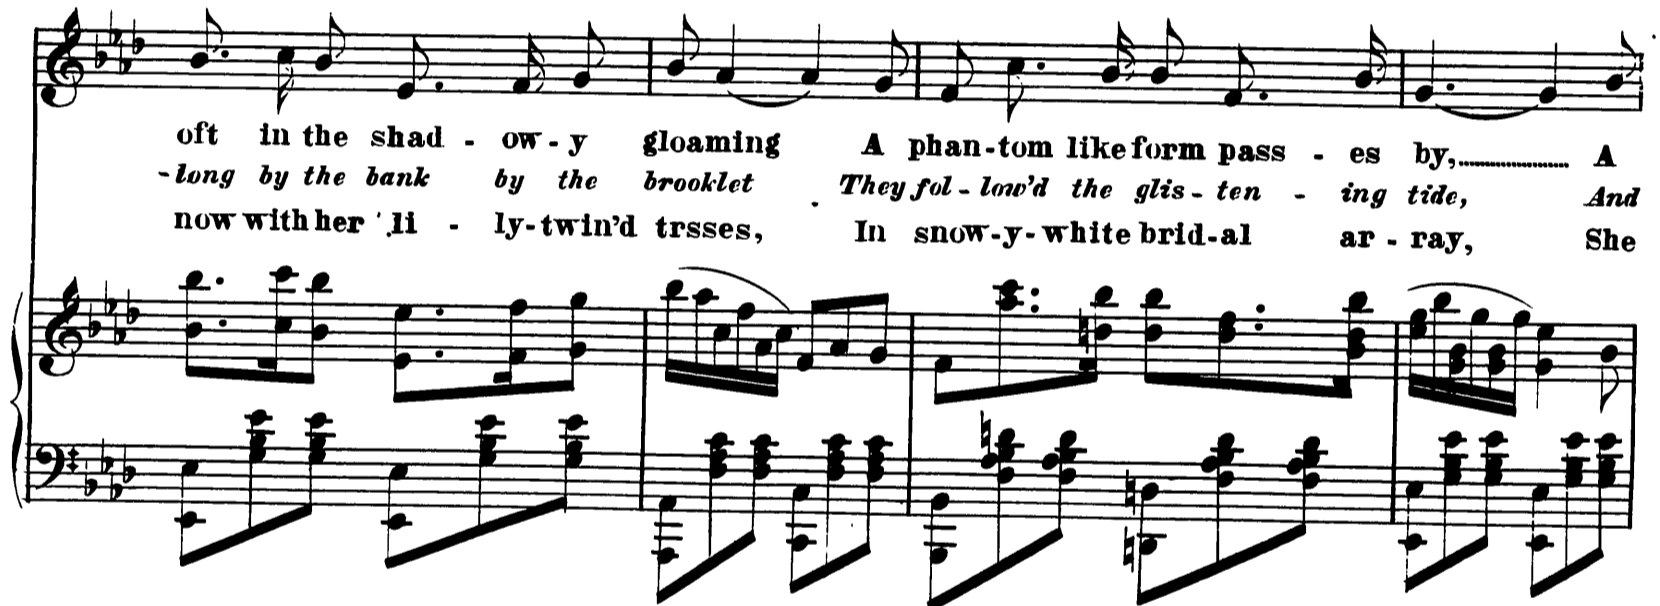

Mrs. P. L. 103 - 3

Copyright, 1881 by Mrs. Pauline Lieder.

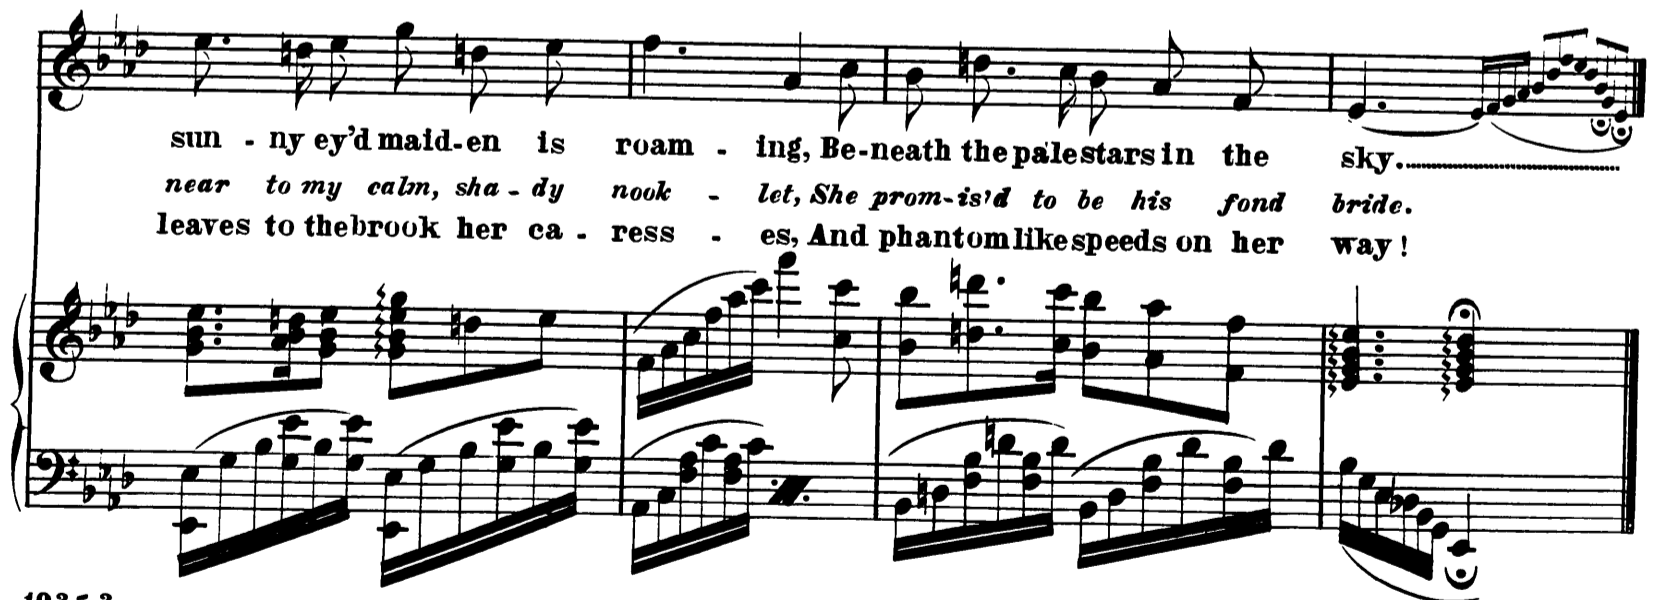

All Rights Reserved.

out from my calm, sha - dy look - let, I gaze on those scenes dear to me;..... And heart of the maid - en beat light - ly, Her lov - er was blithe - some and gay; A - Maid - en so love - ly, for - sak - ing, To dwell in the ci - ty of gold! And oft in the shad - ow - y gloaming A phan - tom like form pass - es by,..... A

 - long by the bank by the brooklet They fol - low'd the glis - ten - ing tide, And now with her 'li - ly - twin'd tresses, In snow - y - white brid - al ar - ray, She sun - ny ey'd maid - en is roam - ing, Be - neath the pale stars in the sky..... near to my calm, sha - dy nook - let, She prom - is'd to be his fond bride.

 leaves to the brook her ca - ress - es, And phantom like speeds on her way!

CHORUS.

Soprano. I sit by the streamlet, un-daunt - ed. And see the lone phan - tom pass

Alto. I sit by the streamlet, un-daunt - ed. And see the lone phan - tom pass

Tenor. I sit by the streamlet, un-daunt - ed. And see the lone phan - tom pass

Bass. I sit by the streamlet, un-daunt - ed. And see the lone phan - tom pass

Piano.

by; The beau-ti - ful brooklet is haunt - ed, By one, with the bright sun - ny eyes.

by; The beau-ti - ful brooklet is haunt - ed, By one, with the bright sunny eyes.

Piano.